How did the Fund perform during the reporting period?

The Tactical Dividend and Momentum Fund (“the Fund”) varied in a range of 50-100% invested during the annual reporting period (August 1, 2025 to July 31, 2026). During the reporting period, Class I shares had a total return of 12.44%. The Fund is benchmarked against the S&P 500 Total Return Index, which returned 19.56% over the same period.

The Fund was invested in all sectors except for Healthcare and Materials at the start of the annual reporting period. In December, the Fund added exposure to Materials and partial exposure to Healthcare. The decision to enter these sectors was primarily driven by signals derived from price momentum indicators. In early March, the Fund sold half of its portfolio and moved that portion into cash for defensive positioning. The Fund increased equity exposure several times over the next few months and ended the year fully invested. The Fund's under-performance, in comparison to its benchmark, is largely attributable to the 2nd quarter of 2026 when the Fund held a portion of its portfolio in cash.

As of 7/31/2026, the Fund is 98.83% invested in US equities with 1.17% in cash and equivalents.
